

Savage

I say that I'm a savage

I say that I'm a savage

I say that I'm a savage

I say that I'm a savage.

I say that I'm a savage
I'm really half the package
FedEx without the address
Sleeping without a mattress
Dying without a casket
Picture without a caption
Sitting when I was rapping
Saying I was a savage,
When I was struggling to manage
Every word was a bandage.

Every pause, a ligament
Every comma, a tendon
Reminiscing, remembering classes I had attended

Yea, I was a savage
In Math, I never added
In English, I always slept never bothered reading the classics
In Science, I lay down
I drew during mechanics
At home, I wrote bars
I practiced like a mechanic
I focused, perfected language
I put my head down in spanish

I never had liked geography all my thoughts were outlandish
I only had liked astronomy wanting to leave the planet was something I always planned but it's funny I never planned it
So tell me if I'm a savage wanting to live so lavish never focusing on life but bothering to cry and ravage
So tell me if I'm a savage
Tell me if I'm a savage
Tell me that I'm a savage
Tell me so I can manage.
